Dear Mr. McCone

I wish to extend a cordial invitation to you to attend the Air Force Science and Engineering Symposium sponsored by this command in cooperation with the Office of Aerospace Research. The symposium will be held at the Aerospace Medical Division (AFSC), Brooks Air Force Base, San Antonio, Texas, on 9 - 11 October 1962.

This symposium is in keeping with our aims of emphasizing the overall in-house capabilities of AFSC and OAR and demonstrating the effectiveness of the Air Force laboratories. It is intended to promote the initiative and demonstrate the capability of Air Force scientists and engineers to accomplish research and development efforts of superior quality and to manage large and complex programs. The attached tentative agenda indicates the nature and scope of the symposium.

It is my sincere hope that your schedule will permit you to attend.

Sincerely

1 Atch
